#CHANGE

Social Security

Social Security in this country currently accounts for 23% of the total federal budget. 56 million Americans are receiving Social Security benefits. These are our retired workers, our surviving spouses, our disabled, and dependents. We must not let these free riders leech off of this system any longer. I promise to cut funding to Social Security by half!

Education

There is absolutely nothing more important than the education of the next generation. So, it pains me to see that the leaders of tomorrow are having their brains rotted for 7 hours a day 5 days a week. As a former public school student myself, I know first hand the lack of efficiency and ineffectiveness that this system breeds. If I am elected I will strive to make sure all students can go to a for profit private school. I'll do this by cutting funding to public education.

Veterans

God bless the brave men and women who serve our country by putting their lives on the line. They are the best of us. So, why do we disrespect them with this pitiful Department of Veteran Affairs. Life doesn't offer charity, it offers chance. Our veterans are independent and strong. They do not need us mocking them by offering them charity. I say No More! The United States Department of Veteran Affairs is a disgrace and I will make sure to shut it down!

Infrastructure

The United States being as large as it is requires an incredibly advanced and well maintained system of infrastructure. Simply put, that system is expensive, and honestly sometimes not even that good. Being a native Virginian myself I can tell you all about congestion on our interstate. In the same vein, manufacturing jobs seems to have left the U.S. My solution is to leave infrastructure to the corporations. I believe capitalism is part of the American Spirit, and the Federal Government has well overstepped its role on this for far too long. The profit maximizing private sector will be able to rebuild this system saving tax payers money and creating jobs in the process...

Public Debt

The public debt is how much money the government owes to lenders outside of itself. Currently the United States is NUMBER ONE in the entire world! The debt is constantly rising, but as of the start of my campaign it had already hit over 22 trillion dollars. As you all have probably already figured out, a lot of my other campaign promises include cutting spending. Do not worry! I promise to raise the national debt while cutting spending! I guarantee you that I will not allow the United States to lose this lead that we have held onto for so long!

Prison Camp

This is a unique initiative that's very personal to my campaign. The United States Criminal Justice System has been under scrutiny for a long time. Our courts are backed up and our prisons are overflowing. There are currently over 162,000 prisoners in the United States serving a life sentence, and there are over 2.2 million prisoners in total. On average it costs the American taxpayer $31,000 a year per inmate. Some states it can be as much as $60,000. That's why I've come up with my Prison Camp initiative to establish a remote territory based in Alaska that will allow us to incarcerate felons and ease the burden on our criminal justice system. The details...
